Rural Scholarship Program 2022

Master of Professional Psychology (School Psychology)
Charles Sturt University

education.nsw.gov.au

At the NSW Department of Education we are committed to ensuring that every student, at every school in every part of the state has the support they need to help them learn and grow into confident, and capable adults.

Our school-based and state-wide teams work together to hear and understand students' needs, concerns and aspirations, and work with them to provide support specific to them as individuals.

If you believe you have the ability and drive to be a positive influence in the life of a young person when they need it most – then you are the professional we are seeking.

Applications for a scholarship are invited from psychology graduates who are looking for a career working as a school psychologist in rural and remote NSW public schools

Please take the time to read about our rural scholarship program for the Master of Professional Psychology (School Psychology) through Charles Sturt University.

Welcome

Welcome to the NSW Department of Education's Rural Scholarship Program for 2022.

The Rural Scholarship Program delivered through the Master of Professional Psychology (School Psychology) program at Charles Sturt University is part of a suite of scholarships offered by the Department to support psychology graduates in becoming school psychologists.

On successfully completing the Master of Professional Psychology Program at Charles Sturt University, you will join a team of dedicated professionals providing mental health and wellbeing support for children and young people in rural and remote NSW public schools.

Role of School Psychologists

School Psychologists apply their psychological expertise to achieve cognitive, emotional, social, physical and spiritual wellbeing.

As active members of a school community, School Psychologists provide counselling and psychological assessment of students. They complement and enhance the work of teachers to strengthen student learning and wellbeing outcomes. School Psychologists provide psychological counselling services to allocated schools from Preschool to Year 12 in public schools throughout NSW.

School psychologists will not be required to teach or undertake teaching duties as defined by the Teacher Accreditation Act 2004 as amended.

School psychologists:

- apply psychological expertise to enhance and support the cognitive, emotional, social, physical and spiritual wellbeing of students
- support the school leadership team to build and sustain a strong culture of wellbeing
- provide counselling using evidence-based interventions to improve the wellbeing of students
- undertake cognitive, emotional and behavioural assessment to contribute to the development of appropriate school-based support for students
- work collaboratively with learning and support teams, parents and carers and other agencies to enhance learning and wellbeing outcomes for students
- respond as part of a team to assist schools experiencing emergencies.

The Rural Scholarship Program

The NSW Department of Education Rural Scholarship Program offers scholarships for psychology graduates in the full-time Master of Professional Psychology (School Psychology) program at the Charles Sturt University and the opportunity to work as school psychologists in rural and remote NSW public schools.

Rural scholarships

(Rural scholarships apply to locations in rural and remote areas of NSW)

Rural scholarships provide:

- up to $25,000 tuition allowance for full-time, full-fee paying students
- $6,000* employment allowance
- $1,500 textbook and incidentals allowance
- supervised work placements in schools during 2022
- supervised internship from 2023
- comprehensive induction program
- ongoing employment in NSW public schools in rural or remote areas as a school psychologist upon satisfactory completion of the internship.

Employment and Assignment

Upon successful completion of the Master of Professional Psychology (School Psychology) rural scholarship program, you will be offered full-time employment first as an intern (temporary employee) and then as an ongoing employee (conditional on successful completion of the internship). You will be employed by the NSW Department of Education under the Government Sector Employment Act 2013 (GSE Act).

Under the GSE Act, the department may, from time to time, assign an ongoing school psychologist to other school psychologist roles based on workforce need within your deed of agreement. The department will consult with you prior to such re-assignment.

Service Agreement

Successful applicants will be required to sign a Service Agreement with the NSW Department of Education before receiving scholarship benefits. The Deed of Agreement commits applicants to:

- successfully completing the Master of Professional Psychology (School Psychology) rural program through Charles Sturt University
- successfully completing all requirements for the one-year internship as a school psychologist at a NSW public school (or schools) in an agreed rural and/or remote NSW location/s (subject to placement availability)
- accept ongoing employment as a school psychologist and an assignment to a rural and/or remote NSW public school (or schools) in an agreed location/s (subject to workforce need)
- remain in full-time school psychologist employment in a rural and/or remote NSW public school for a minimum period of three years following the completion of the Master of Professional Psychology

The scholarship benefit will be adjusted based on the university's tuition fees for the program

*Additional benefits may be available to interns and employees working in certain rural or remote NSW locations.

The scholarship benefit will be adjusted based on the university's tuition fees for the program.

(School Psychology) rural scholarship program. This comprises of:
3 years of continuous service in a Specified Role, comprising:

Employment Conditions

Remuneration

The following table outlines the current and 2020 annual salary bands of school psychologists. The Graduate starting salary for the beginning of the internship is set at Band 1.0. In addition, you will receive an employer contribution to superannuation currently at 9.5%.

Salary Step	Effective 10/07/2020
Band 1.0	$70,652 (internship)
Band 2.0	$85,214
Band 2.1	$92,492
Band 2.2	$96,138
Band 2.3	$105,376

Note: Additional benefits may be available to interns and employees working in certain rural NSW locations. More information is available at Rural and remote incentive package - Incentives for School Psychologists.

Hours of work

The hours of work for a full-time employee are 35 hours per week, excluding breaks.

School psychologists work administrative hours of seven hours per working day not including breaks.

School psychologists are employed under the Government Sector Employment Act 2013 (GSE Act) and are not entitled to the student vacation periods. Unless they are taking approved leave such as recreation leave or flex leave (where the school psychologist is permitted to work flexible hours) during the student vacation periods, school psychologists will be required to be on duty.

Recreation leave

Full-time school psychologists are employed under the GSE Act for 52 weeks a year.

Full time employees are entitled to four weeks annual recreation leave. Part-time employees are entitled to recreation leave on a pro rata basis. School psychologists will start accruing recreation leave as soon as they are employed.

Given the operations of schools, the most likely times that a School Psychologist may take available recreation leave will be during the student vacation periods.

Other forms of leave

The entitlements of school psychologists to other forms of leave such as sick, extended, family and community services leave, are as contained in the Crown Employees \(Public Service Conditions of Employment\) Award 2009.
