

Commit to a trauma-informed school culture

Embed a culture of wellbeing in the school community

Collaborate with professionals

Engage in relevant professional learning

Develop a culture based on empathy, responsiveness, awareness and sensitivity

Ensure nonjudgmental attitudes and acceptance and tolerance in the school environment

*Note: some students may be distressed or uncomfortable with physical touch. Always talk to the student and their family about what kinds of prompts/communication they feel are most suited to their individual needs.
