

Peer Information Activity Book: Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder

All students

All students are unique.

All students have strengths.

All students have things they are still learning.

All students have something in common – a shared interest, hobby, or activity they enjoy.

PRIMARY LEARN

Word Search: Find the interests/hobbies

A	P	A	P	E	R	P	L	A	N	E	S	P	O
N	R	T	S	P	U	Z	Z	R	L	D	A	N	X
I	M	I	N	A	O	G	E	T	L	Z	X	Z	N
M	M	U	S	P	O	D	A	N	F	O	O	T	Y
A	C	I	N	G	I	N	A	Y	T	O	B	O	F
L	M	A	L	S	A	S	N	I	M	Z	X	Z	G
S	E	L	Z	Z	U	P	X	I	C	C	L	S	N
F	X	A	G	O	X	O	G	E	L	I	O	E	I
O	T	L	M	S	B	R	N	W	N	S	I	Z	C
O	H	B	G	C	T	T	E	A	P	U	S	M	N
S	L	Y	M	E	G	S	H	T	A	M	I	M	A
I	T	S	A	O	T	X	R	D	W	N	C	Z	D
G	N	I	M	M	I	W	S	R	Z	G	A	S	W
S	Z	Z	U	U	S	P	N	I	M	I	M	L	A

Puzzles

Sports

Xbox

Dancing

Maths

Footy

Music

Lego

Swimming

Art

Animals

Paperplanes

Unique

We all are born with different hair, eyes and our own unique fingerprints. Some students are born with Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder, or ADHD for short. Just like hair, eyes or fingerprints, this is a part of them, but not who they are. Take the time to get to know them, and you'll find there are lots of things you have in common.

Stamp your fingerprints into this box. Compare your fingerprints with others in your class. No one's fingerprints are the same!

What is ADHD?

Students with ADHD can be creative, enthusiastic and confident.

Some students find paying attention, listening, waiting their turn and sitting still a bit hard some of the time. Students with ADHD find this hard a lot of the time.

Paying attention

We all have times where we find it hard to pay attention. Students with ADHD may often find it hard to pay attention. They might be easily distracted by things around them and find it hard to work on a task. It can be hard to finish a task. They might look around the room or outside, or start to talk to you rather than working on the task. They might get out of their chair or grab at things on the desk and fiddle with them. They sometimes might not pay attention when the teacher is giving instructions so they might not know what to do. You could help by repeating the instructions for a task if they have missed them.

Energy

Some students with ADHD have lots of energy! They might find sitting still hard and might get up out of their chair or move around on the mat when they are supposed to be staying still.

Draw a star "★" above each line to show how loud/quiet and active/calm you are!

Very loud

Very quiet

Very active

Very calm/still

Some students with ADHD might do things without thinking about what could happen. They might yell out an answer, or interrupt someone who is talking. They might even break a rule sometimes or do something dangerous because they're so caught up in the moment. They usually don't mean to do this, they just find it hard think before they do something. We all do that sometimes! Can you remember a time you did something before thinking?

Feelings

Some students with ADHD can find it hard to tell others how they feel. They might find it difficult to calm down when they're upset. If you see them upset and you're not sure what to do, you can get a teacher. Teachers are great at helping students when they're upset. You can also help them by showing them that you care.

Ways I can help

Write down four ways you can help support a student with ADHD at school!

- #1 _____
- #2 _____
- #3 _____
- #4 _____

Just like you!

Students with ADHD have lots of ways in which they're just like you. They can feel happy, sad, excited, or worried – just like you. They are learning, growing and exploring – just like you. And they like having friends, going to parties, and being included – just like you!

