What happens at play time

Reader Notes:

These stories have been designed to help students learn about school so they know what to expect and can learn positive ways to respond to new situations. As a teacher, parent or carer you can help a student by reading through the stories. You could point out how the student's school experience is different and similar to that in the story and come up with other positive ways to respond. We hope these stories can make students feel more confident, safe and accepted at school.

It's a time to play with others in the playground.

I can play in the sandpit.
I can talk with other students.

I can go to the library and read.

I sometimes play hide and seek with Jack and my other friends.

We can get puffed from running fast.

Sometimes when Jack is not at school it can be hard to find other students to play with. This might make me feel a bit sad or worried.

I can remind myself that I can play in the sand pit.

In the sandpit everyone shares the buckets and spades and build castles together. I can go to a recess activity such as the library or chess club.

I could ask the students who play basketball if I can join in.
