

Career pathways into the School Counselling Service

Ever considered a rewarding career in the School Counselling Service?

I am...

A NSW public school teacher

A NSW public school teacher and APAC approved psychology graduate

A four-year APAC approved psychology graduate

A psychologist with provisional or general registration with the Psychology Board of Australia

Three year (or four with honours) APAC approved psychology course.

Master of Psychological Practice (School Psychology).

OR

Master of Professional Psychology (School Psychology).

One year supervised internship in a NSW public school.

I am a teacher with three-year psychology degree: Two year Master of Psychological Practice (School Psychology), meeting your fourth and fifth year requirements for PsyBA registration, including supervised school-based placement.

OR

I am a teacher with three-year psychology degree + honours or graduate diploma: One year Master of Professional Psychology (School Psychology), meeting your fifth year requirement for PsyBA registration, including supervised school-based placement.

One year supervised internship in a NSW public school.

Master of Professional Psychology (School Psychology), meeting your fifth year requirement for PsyBA registration, including supervised school-based placement.

One year supervised internship in a NSW public school.

Visit I work for NSW website for current job opportunities.

Visit education.nsw.gov.au

School counsellor: holds dual qualifications in teaching and provisional or general registration as a psychologist

School psychologist: holds provisional or general registration as a psychologist

Both roles provide psychological services to students in NSW public schools