

Learning Circles

Term 3

Personalised Learning Pathways

Course Overview:

The Personalised Learning Pathways (PLPs) Learning Circle is designed to build the capacity of NSW DoE staff, including teachers, support staff, and school executives. This professional learning focuses on effective PLP systems to increase Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander student engagement, attendance, transitions, and overall educational outcomes.

Participants will:

- Understand the purpose and impact of PLPs in improving engagement, attendance, transitions and outcomes for Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander students
- Strengthen their knowledge of effective PLP systems and processes, including what quality practice looks like in schools
- Build confidence in implementing culturally responsive PLP processes that centre student voice, family engagement and community connection
- Analyse transition points within their school context and identify how PLPs can support continuity of learning and wellbeing
- Explore and adapt exemplary PLP models to design context-specific approaches aligned to their school and community
- Connect PLP practice to system priorities, including alignment with Our Plan for NSW Public Education, with focuses on student voice, high potential and gifted, explicit teaching and equity for excellence.
