

IPM Sample: Authentic Engagement with Partners in Learning

Rationale

This resource supports schools when developing Implementation and Progress Monitoring (IPM). It is an example only. Each school will create their own unique IPMs, to address their specific context and their individual needs.

Fundamental elements of this IPM example are:

- Establishing or enhancing the school's Aboriginal Education Committee
- Engagement with Local AECGs as partner in learning
- Developing a shared understanding of staff responsibilities in relation to Aboriginal Education
- Respecting Aboriginal voice (students/family/community) when engaging in decision making processes
- Analysing of available data sets (Aboriginal voice, system, school)
- Utilising Aboriginal voice to inform approaches in school planning
- Establishing or enhancing of school processes which support Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander students

Timeframe for use

One year of a four-year plan. Each school will determine the timeframe regarding implementation of each activity for their local context. The implications at each QDAI analysis point will determine the next steps to be taken.

Note: There is a great deal of information in the example but there is no expectation that this will all be achieved in one year. Principals can implement these activities at a pace suited to their context.

Intended Audience

The audience for this resource is Directors, Educational Leadership (DELs), school Principals (with secondary enrolments), School leadership teams, Aboriginal Education Committee and school staff. It may also be used by Principals School Leadership (PSLs), Principal Coach Mentors (PCMs) and other Educational support staff.

Instructions for use

This IPM sample will be used by schools when developing their IPM's as part of the School Excellence Cycle. Principals should review this resource with key staff to discuss how its contents may be useful in their school's context. Principals and school leadership teams should consider how it might inform the development of the school's implementation and progress monitoring and fit within the current strategic directions of their Strategic Improvement Plan (SIP).

Strategic Improvement Plan (SIP): Implementation and Progress Monitoring

Authentic Engagement with Partners in Learning

Sample for a 1-year component of a 4-year SIP.

Each school should determine the timeframe regarding the implementation of each activity for their own context.

Theory of action for this IPM sample:

NEED: we need to empower staff, Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander students and families to collaborate and engage in decision making, leading to aspirational post school pathways

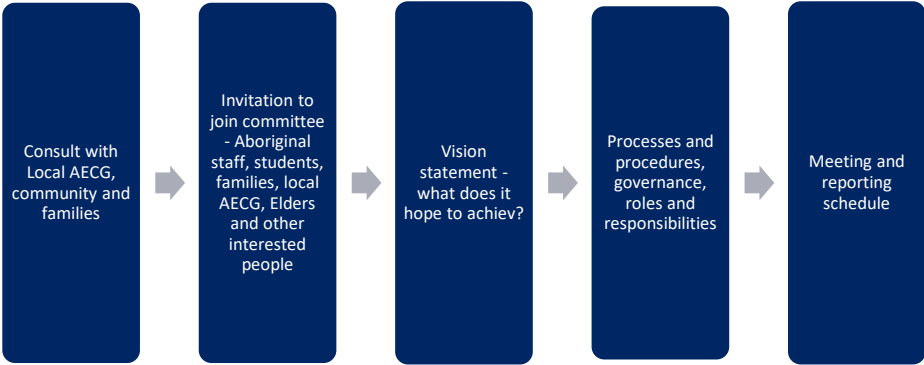

IF WE: build staff capacity (knowledge and confidence) to engage and collaborate with students, families and community.

AND: actively involve student and family voice to facilitate a student's learning journey and aspirational pathway

THEN: there is an increased likelihood of students successfully attaining the HSC

SO THAT: Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander students are empowered to take control of their learning and prepare for the future with confidence.

5 principles of effective parent and carer engagement

Where can we leverage these principles to strengthen our engagement with families?

Phase 2: School facilitates conversations with Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander students that identify their:

- Knowledge of potential aspirational pathways linked to their skills and interests.
- Strengths and successes
- Literacy/numeracy levels (eg. HSC Min Std)

Consider planning for subject selections or career planning with Aboriginal families and staff mentors:

- Using or creating known connections for families with a staff member as the link between home and school
- Using My Future, My Culture, My Way (MFMCMW) resources to support students and parents to understand options for HSC attainment and post school destinations groups/forums, student focus groups, family focus groups

Answer these questions to help to complete the analysis:

What has been done?

How well has it been done?

Describe the Enablers and Barriers
What consistencies and inconsistencies became apparent?

Were there any unexpected outcomes?

Impact / evidence of progress?

A clear picture will be developed which shows strengths and identifies focus areas.
