Proven offence:

On 7 August 2015, while playing on an indoor “flying fox”, a nine year old child came to be in a position in which she was hanging from the structure by a scarf that was wrapped around her neck and the handle of the flying fox. The child became motionless and unresponsive whilst hanging from the structure. Another child at the service told an educator, in words to the effect of, “There is a girl hanging in the flying fox.” The child who had been in the flying fox was transported to hospital by ambulance.
