Conjunctions - Words That Join Sentences

Choose the correct conjunction from the list to complete these sentences.

\textit{while} because \textit{but} and \textit{so} \textit{when} \textit{then}

• The weather was very cold \ldots\ldots\ldots\ldots John wore gloves.
• Paul was sad \ldots\ldots\ldots his cricket team had lost the match.
• I gave the shop assistant five dollars \ldots\ldots\ldots I had two dollars change.
• We waited for Sue \ldots\ldots\ldots she didn’t turn up.
• Mary had her dinner \ldots\ldots\ldots went to bed.
• The children washed their hands \ldots\ldots\ldots they had finished gardening.
• We wanted to go to the beach \ldots\ldots\ldots it rained.
• Charlie read a book \ldots\ldots\ldots he waited for the train.
• Paul dropped the cup \ldots\ldots\ldots it broke.
• Julie was a good girl \ldots\ldots\ldots she got a sticker.

Now use each conjunction to write a sentence of your own.
Conjunctions – Words That Join Sentences

Use and to join these sentences.

- I gave the shop assistant five dollars. I had three dollars change.
- Paula went into the park. She had a ride on the swing.
- David dropped the plate. It broke.

Use but to join these sentences.

- It was a lovely dress. It was too small for Sarah.
- We waited for Sue. She didn’t turn up.
- We wanted to go to the beach. It rained.

Use because to join these sentences.

- He did not drink his coffee. It was cold.
- They used their umbrellas. It was wet.
- Matthew was happy. There was a public holiday.

Use so to join these sentences.

- The weather was very cold. John wore gloves.
- Julie was a good girl. She got a sticker.
- It was a sunny day. They went for a walk.