

Punctuation bingo!
Capital letter ABCDEFGFG	Full stop ▪	Comma ,
Exclamation mark !	Question mark ?	Quotation mark “ ”

Punctuation bingo!
Colon :	Capital letter ABCDEFGFG	Full stop ▪
Comma ,	Question mark ?	Dash —

Punctuation bingo!
Full stop ▪	Semi-Colon ;	Capital letter ABCDEFGFG
Question mark ?	Dash —	Apostrophe ,

Punctuation bingo!
Capital letter ABCDEFGG	Full stop ▪	Comma ,
Dash —	Apostrophe '	Quotation mark “ ”

Punctuation bingo!
Colon :	Quotation marks “ ”	Full stop ▪
Brackets (.....)	Capital letter ABCDEFGG	Question mark ?

Punctuation bingo!
Commas ,	Speech marks “ ”	Semi-colon ;
Brackets (.....)	Capital letter ABCDEFGG	Exclamation mark !

Bingo Calling cards

1. This represents the beginning of a sentence. We use these to spell the first letters of places, things and people (capital letters).
2. This piece of punctuation shows us a question has been asked (question mark).
3. When we see this punctuation, we know to take a little pause. These also make longer sentences easier to read (commas).
4. This punctuation shows exactly what a character has said (speech marks).
5. Without this bit of punctuation, we would not recognise whether someone was surprised, excited or shouting! (exclamation mark).
6. We always find these at the end of a sentence (full stops).
7. This punctuation is used to indicate a break in thought or to separate an appositive off from the rest of the sentence. (Dash)
8. This represents “and”. It is used in its place. (Semi-colon)
9. We use this punctuation example to start a list or an explanation. (Colon)